

YOUR AND MY 2019 PLANS TO MOVE FROM OUR CURRENT POINTS "A" TO DESIRED POINTS "B"

CHECKING OUR PHYSICAL RESOURCES

Featuring Katherine Denton

In January at our Fore(In)Sight seminar we shared some current approaches to FINDING WAYS FORWARD related to some specific concerns about SERA-SERA dissonances within organized religion.

This month we plan to check our life journey travel packs related to our physical resources so that we can sharpen our strategies for reaching our planned points B.

We have invited Katherine Denton, owner of My Friend, Katherine, to share ideas with us. Since she can remember, Katherine has been obsessed with order. Her childhood memories are filled with organizing people's junk drawers, color coding her clothing and re-arranging furniture. After graduating college and working several unfulfilling positions in advertising, she struck out on her own to use her love affair with order (her words, not mine)... to help others.

Over the past 24 years, Katherine has worn many hats to help her clients. She has been called an organizer, a personal assistant, bookkeeper, secretary, administrator, productivity specialist, coach, clutter counselor, but her favorite thing to be called is my friend, Katherine.
